

Brady Burningham was raised on what he calls the farm in Mapleton, Utah. He was given his first pair of cowboy boots on the day he was born; two weeks later Grandpa Jackson had him on the back of a horse. Brady didn't have a chance but to be a cowboy. He's been on both sides of the gate in the rodeo arena - as a team roper and also as a bullfighter. At the time of high school graduation (2006) he chased his dream of becoming a stock contractor and found a great blood line in Nebraska; a week later 4 horses arrived and the dream became real.

The Rocking B Rodeo Company has seen great success and growth in the last few years, with the most notable developments being his partnership in 2020 with Randy and Amber Schmutz of Silver Creek Pro Rodeos from Stephenville, Texas. Becoming a member of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) has been a dream of Brady's since the beginning. Now, with both companies combined, they are taking their professional entertainment and exceptional livestock all over the midwestern states.

Though 2020 was a tough year for everyone, the team traveled with their talents and stock to rodeos in Iowa, Missouri, and Kansas. They also had 6 bareback, 8 saddle bronc, and 6 bulls selected for the PRCA Prairie Circuit Finals in Duncan, Oklahoma. 2021 shows great promise with a full lineup of rodeos all over the Midwest.

No matter where the rodeo circuit takes him, the Springville Art City Days Rodeo is forever a favorite for Brady - there is nothing quite like sharing your passion for rodeo with your hometown.
