FROM THE MAYOR OF SPRINGVILLE

Springville is a thriving community that has experienced steady growth over the past ten years. Our current population of 30,000 continues to increase with a 4.6% annual growth rate.

The well-established Springville Industrial Park boasts large companies such as Nestlé USA and Little Giant Ladders. When it comes to attracting retail business, Springville City is in a unique position with underdeveloped I-15 frontage, new transportation, upgraded utility service, and a population where 81.1% of citizens support efforts to attract new retail business to the community.

Springville City is committed to managing growth and the unique environmental assets of the community in a careful and prudent manner. Springville is truly a wonderful place to live and work. We invite you to visit our community to see for yourself all the benefits it has to offer.

Best regards,

Wilford W. Clyde, Mayor

Springville's Past, Present and Future

A rich history

First explored by Father Escalante, a Jesuit Priest, in 1776, Springville was originally settled by eight pioneer families in 1850. It was first called Hobble Creek by the early pioneers because their horses were often hobbled (by loosely tying their front feet together) and left along the stream to graze in the lush grass. If the horses wandered into the creek, the hobbles came off in the water. Thus, the settlement earned its original name. Later as the town grew, the name was changed to Springville, but the canyon stream and golf course have retained the name of Hobble Creek.

An ideal location

Springville is located in one of the most beautiful regions of the nation—nestled in the foothills of The Wasatch Range of The Rocky Mountains, two miles east of Utah Lake and just 45 miles south of Salt Lake City. Lying astride the I-15 freeway that runs between Canada and Los Angeles, the City is ideally positioned with easy access to Interstate 80 running between San Francisco and New York for distribution of goods by road to the major markets in the West. All vehicular traffic that transports goods to the north, south, east and west funnels through the interstate hub near Springville's strategically important freeway location.

A great potential

With its strong connection to the arts, Springville is thriving community that has experienced steady growth over the past ten years. Its current population of 30,000 continues to increase with 4.6% annual growth.

Springville boasts a well-developed industrial park with large manufacturers, newly built freeway interchanges with open land for commercial development and a sustainable Main Street, perfect for specialty stores. A study of retail, office and industrial development potential reveals Springville has a lot of growth potential just to capture the dollars available from our own community. Simply put, our residential growth has outstripped our commercial development. Our well-educated, employed and high income citizens make ideal employees and wonderful customers. This is a great time to locate in Springville City!

2007 Citizen Survey

In mid-November Springville City mailed “The Citizens’ Viewpoint” survey to 1736 randomly selected Springville households. In total, the City received responses from 931 residences (54% response rate). This means that over one out of every ten households in the entire city responded to the survey. The margin of error for the city data is approximately +/- 2 to 2.5 percent at a 95 percent confidence level.

Comparisons against census data showed that the households that responded were very similar to all households in Springville on household income, race, household size, age and marital status. There were some differences from census data: somewhat more women responded than men, somewhat fewer people with a high school diploma (or less) responded, and there were fewer respondents from mobile homes and multi-family apartments/condos than expected. Overall, the sample appears to be representative of most households in the city.

Springville Population

During the 1990s, Springville’s average annual growth rate (AAGR) was 4.6%, while Utah County’s AAGR for the same period was just under 4.0%. This is indicative of the fact that as Provo and Orem are get closer to build-out, their AAGR declines while other cities with more available land are experiencing a higher AAGR and become a larger percentage of Utah County’s overall population.

Springville City Population Projections

In projecting the population for Springville, the two methods of population projection used were: 1) a simple extrapolation of the average annual growth rate between 1950 and 2000, which produces an acceptable low and 2) an exponential extrapolation based on the regression of the logarithm of population against time as an acceptable high. In studies of population projections, the exponential extrapolation has proven to be the most accurate method for rapidly growing townships (greater than 25% increase in the decade) (Isserman, 1977). The problem with either of these methods is that they do not take into account the city's developable land within the city boundaries and annexable areas.

Housing in Springville

Dynamic, Quality Growth

Because of its availability of land and its convenient location along the Wasatch Front, Springville is experiencing growth in new housing. The illustration at right shows subdivisions completed or under review in the “West Fields” area of Springville as of February 2008.

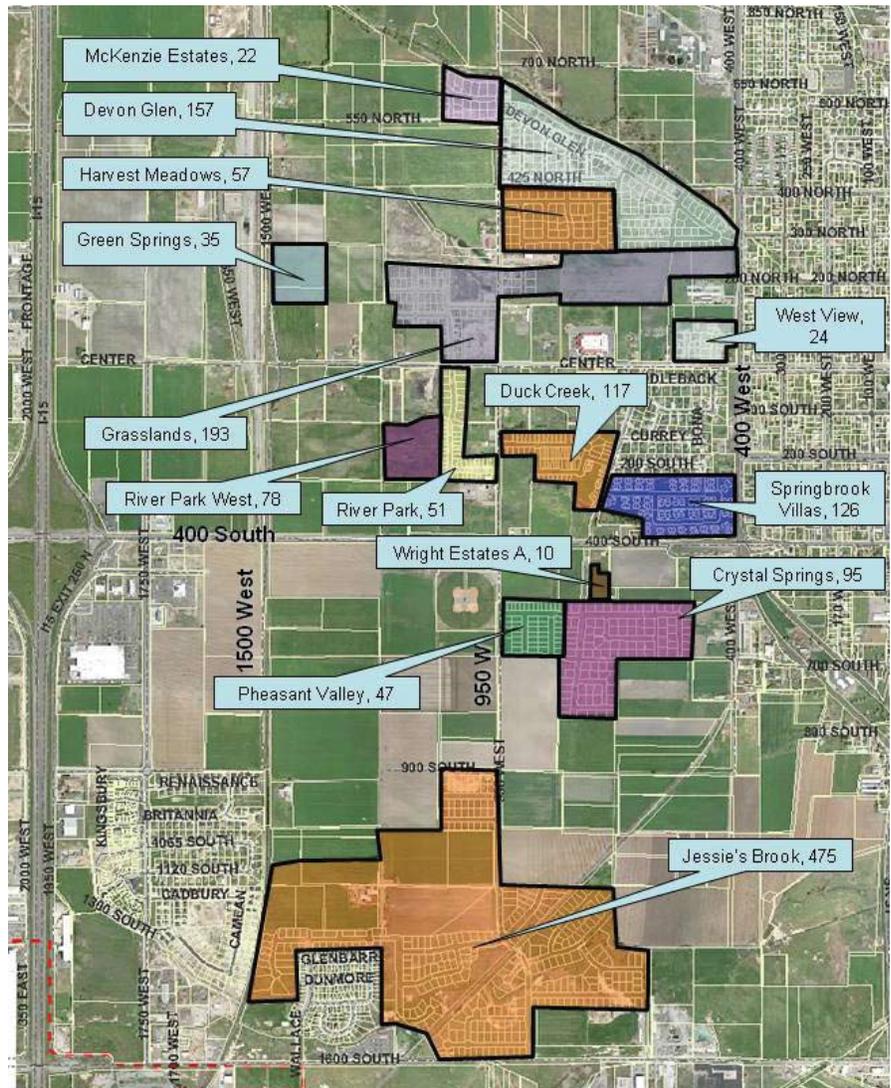

In 2008, the Census Bureau reported that Springville had 8,289 housing units, 99% of which were occupied. 77% of the city’s homes were owner-occupied, while 22.5% were renter-occupied. Since the census was taken, Springville has experienced dynamic housing growth that continues today.

Families

Springville is a family community. Nearly 65% of all households have children under the age of 18. The statistics shown here use the definition of a family as householders who live together in the same housing unit, with children. This may include a married couple with children, a female householder with children, or a male householder with children.

Family Income

Income is a good indicator of the spending power of the market. Per Capita Income includes the income of all persons 15 years old and over. Median Income divides the income distribution into two equal parts, one-half falling above the median and one-half below.

Shopping Habits and Trends

As Springville City continues to grow, the demands for shopping alternatives have also increased. Economic development is a high priority for the current Mayor and City Council. Top on the list are companies such as Costco, Target, Lowes Home Improvement and restaurants of all types. A recent market analysis report indicates citizens are eager for department stores, restaurants and craft stores.

I-15 Frontage

Highway Commercial (HC), Regional Commercial (RC) and Light Industrial Manufacturing (LIM) zones can be found along the I-15 freeway. A complete land use matrix can be found in Title 11 of the Springville City code at http://www.springville.org/municipal-code/Title\_11.pdf. Typical businesses such as commercial, professional/personal services, auto and vehicle related uses, retail sales and accommodations/food service are permitted use.

Springville City is in a unique position with a large inventory of abundant open space along the I-15 corridor. Major improvement to roads and utilities have positioned Springville to be a major retail hub for south Utah County. The area will capture not only Springville and Mapleton traffic, but offer exposure to daily I-15 traffic as well. The City Council is flexible on zoning changes to accommodate new growth.

The Business Environment in Springville

A History of Great Businesses

In 1944 Springville City had more contractors listed in the City boundaries than any other city per capita in the nation. Contractors listed included Reynolds Construction, Thorn and Sons, Strong and Grant, J.M. Sumsion, Whiting and Haymond, and W.W. Clyde and Company. Springville City is still home to W.W. Clyde and Company along with established businesses like Nestlé USA (Stouffers) and Wing Enterprises (Little Giant Ladder).

Springville's Labor Force

Springville offers a potential employer the opportunity to tap in to an enthusiastic workforce. Springville residences display a strong emphasis on quality of life. Companies such as Nestlé USA, Wal-Mart Corporation and Little Giant Ladders have recognized Springville's work force and its ability to offer foreign language expertise, Foreign Service experience, high education levels, and a strong work ethic. Springville's strategic location allows its companies to draw upon both the Utah county metro area labor market and the Salt Lake Valley labor market, which adds an additional 600,000-plus worker to the pool.

Springville Chamber of Commerce

Springville has a very active Chamber organization with over 150 businesses participating. The Chamber has close to 100 active members. Monthly directors meetings are held along with a quarterly seminar series. The Chamber sponsors a yearly scholarship golf tournament benefiting the business students at Springville High School. They also sponsor a Safe Halloween activity where over 4,000 kids and adults visit Main Street businesses for Halloween treats.

Property Tax, Sales Tax, and Other Taxes

Property Tax

Cities and towns receive a portion of property taxes paid on all property within the jurisdiction. Approximately 15% of the total property tax paid is remitted to a city or town. However, this percentage varies by jurisdiction. For more detailed information on property taxes, please visit the Utah State Tax Commission Property Tax Division website at: <http://www.tax.ex.state.ut.us/property/>.

Sales Tax

The sales tax rate assessed by the State of Utah is 4.65 percent. The tax applies to sales or leases of tangible personal property, transportation charges, intrastate telephone service; meals; gas, electricity or other fuels sold for residential or commercial use; admission or users fees, use of amusement devices; hotel and motel accommodations; and cleaning or repair of tangible personal property. Currently, there are 52 sales tax exemption provisions in place. All money collected from the State sales tax is remitted to the State of Utah. For more detailed information on sales taxes, please visit the Utah State Tax Commission Sales Tax Division website at: <http://tax.utah.gov/sales/rates.html>.

Local Option Sales Tax

Cities and towns can impose a sales tax rate, up to 1 percent, that is added to the state sales tax rate. Currently, all 237 cities and towns in Utah impose the optional 1% sales tax rate. The sales tax generated is distributed to cities and towns based on the following formula: 50 percent is returned to the point of sale and 50 percent is distributed based on population. From and after January 1, 1990, there is levied, and there shall be collected and paid, a tax upon every retail sale of tangible personal property, services, and meals made within the City at the rate of one percent. Springville Rate = .0625

Corporate Income Tax

Corporate income tax in Springville is set by state statute. Utah's corporate tax rate is among the lowest in the Rocky Mountain Region, which in turn is among the lowest in the country. Rate = 5.0

Public Transit Sales Tax

The rate of this tax is ¼ to ½ of 1 percent and is added to purchases, where approved by voters, to finance local bus service. This is a county-option sales tax. Where approved, proceeds of this tax are remitted to the local bus service provider.

Highway Tax

In communities where the ¼ to ½ of 1 percent tax is not imposed for local bus service, the community may impose this tax for the construction and maintenance of highways. This is a city- or town-option sales tax. Where approved, proceeds of this tax are remitted to the city or town.

Botanical, Cultural & Zoological Tax (ZAP tax)

This is a county-option sales tax to fund botanical, cultural and zoological activities and centers. This rate of this tax is 1/10 of 1 percent. The tax is currently assessed in Salt Lake, Summit, Uintah and Utah counties. Where approved, proceeds of this tax are remitted to the county.

Transient Room Tax

The rate of this county-option tax is up to 3 percent of defined accommodation charges.

Municipal Transient Room Tax

The rate of this city- or town-option tax is up to 1 ½ percent of defined accommodation charges. Where approved, proceeds of this tax are remitted to the city or town.

Resort Community Sales Tax

The rate of this city- or town-option tax is up to 1 percent of the purchase price on the same transactions as the state and local option sales tax. This tax may be imposed by municipalities whose transient room capacity equals or exceeds 66% of the permanent population. The tax is currently assessed by the municipalities of Green River, Boulder, Panguitch, Moab, East Green River, Kanab, Park City, Brianhead, Alta, Springdale and Tropic. Monticello also imposes the tax, but only for ½ percent. Where approved, proceeds of this tax are remitted to the city or town.

Restaurant Sales Tax

The rate of this county-option tax is up to 1%. This sales tax is in addition to state and local option sales taxes at restaurants. Where approved, proceeds from this tax are remitted to the county.

Tourism, Recreation, Cultural and Convention Facilities Tax: This county-option tax can be imposed as up to 3% on short term leases of motor vehicles, up to 1 percent in restaurants, and/or up to ½ of 1 percent for every hotel, motel or inn room rented. Where approved, the proceeds of this tax are remitted to the county.

Municipal Energy Sales and Use Tax

This city- or town-option tax of up to 6% may be charged on electric and natural gas users in the community. Where approved, the proceeds of this tax are remitted to the city or town.

Class C Road Monies (Motor Fuel Tax)

The state tax on motor vehicle fuel is 24.5 cents per gallon. Cities and towns receive 25% of the proceeds of this tax. The state receives the remaining 75%.

Utilities and Air/Water Quality

Natural Gas

Questar is the most dependable and economical natural gas service available. <http://www.questar.com/>

Electricity

Springville has been in the power generation business from the very beginning of the electric age. In 1904, Springville was one of the first to be self-sufficient with regards to generating its own electric power. Springville was instrumental in installing one of the first hydroelectric power plants in the state of Utah. The Hobbie Creek Hydroelectric Power Plant, located in beautiful Hobbie Creek Canyon, is still in operation today. Today, Springville has five hydroelectric plants and one 34-megawatt natural-gas power plant. Over the past five years, the generation from these plants has exceeded expectations and has out-performed almost every City utility in the Utah Associated Municipal Systems (UAMPS) organization. Since 1904, Springville's peak electrical power load has grown from 300 KW to 50 megawatts and 8,500 connected meters. With the inflated cost of power in today's market, power generation facilities are essential to small cities which do not have the resources to offset the sky-rocketing costs of power.

Distribution & Transmission Rates

Large Commercial (peak demand is greater than 35 KW during any billing period)

- $0.1161 per KWH for the first 10,000 KWH
- $0.0783 per KWH for 10,001 to 100,000 KWH
- $0.0707 per KWH for usage over 100,000 KWH
- $6.90 per KW for peak demand over 5 KW
- $35.00 monthly service charge for large commercial accounts.

Large Commercial (Interruptible)

- $0.1161 per KWH for the first 10,000 KWH
- $0.0783 per KWH for 10,001 to 100,000 KWH
- $0.0707 per KW for usage over 100,000 KWH (No demand charge unless demand exceeds 1,800 KW during the billing cycle—if demand exceeds 1,800 KW a full demand charge will be billed at the Large Commercial demand rate for all demand over 5 KW.)
- $35.00 monthly service charge for large commercial (interruptible) accounts.

Water

Water rates for commercial users are $10 (minimum monthly fee) plus $1.05 per 1,000 gallons used.

Solid Waste Disposal

Springville provides full capacity sanitation and solid waste disposal, along with providing a mulching program to help reuse green waste.

Air and Water Quality

The Utah Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) maintains a Division of Air Quality that reviews and approves development projects on a site specific basis if the project is of a certain magnitude or type. The department is also involved in monitoring certain construction sites looking at emissions of fuel burning equipment, fugitive dust, incinerators, asbestos removal, open burning, etc. The reviews are standard procedure and are part of the normal construction process so they should not be viewed as a constraint. Like air quality, water quality is monitored and enforced by DEQ. The concerns for the region are many as clean water is an extremely valuable and fragile resource.

Telephone

All campsites have water and most have electricity hookups. Jolley’s Ranch pavilion and campsite areas have restrooms with flush toilets, barbecue braziers, playgrounds, volleyball, basketball, picnic tables, fire pits, and large field areas for games and sports.

Enjoy Utah Valley’s finest winter recreation at Jolley’s Ranch. You’ll find nearly five miles of groomed trails for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing.

There is a tubing and sledding hill and parking areas for snowmobilers. Ski and snowshoe equipment is available for rent, as well as tubes for the tubing hill. You may bring your own tubes, sleds, cross-country skis and snowshoes to use. There are heated restrooms and a warming shelter. Season passes and a discount of 30% for groups of 20 or more are available.

The Springville Museum of Art

Mission Statement

The purpose of the Springville Museum of Art is to provide quality life-affirming art, cultural and educational opportunities to the community of Springville (Utah's Art City), the arts community, students and educators, and the public at large.

The Museum encourages our youth to develop into thoughtful individuals and caring human beings. We recognize the seed of potential within each individual and seek to nurture growth through the creative process, positive cultural values, an acquaintance with excellence, and a belief in the beauty of life. We emphasize art, asymmetrically balanced toward traditional aesthetic values, though we also understand and appreciate visionary and modernist art. To this end, the Museum plays a unique and under-represented role in Utah and the Intermountain West.

As expressed by the Museum's founders, our vision is that the absolutes of truth, beauty and pathos, sensitivity and power of fine art to "refine the minds of youth and build character in all people," [John Hafen] and that "art is a necessity for a well ordered life" [Cyrus E. Dallin]. Our goal is to promote the Museum as "a sanctuary of beauty and a temple of contemplation" [David O. McKay].

History

Utah's first museum for the visual arts, this beautiful Spanish Moroccan Style building would be worth visiting even if there were no art. Dedicated as a "Sanctuary of Beauty and a Temple of Contemplation" by David O. McKay, the Museum houses over 2,000 works; 1,500 of which are Utah art. The impressive collection of 150 years of Utah fine art, twentieth century Soviet Socialist Realism and American art, and 15 exhibitions per year are displayed throughout 29 galleries.

The Museum recognizes the seed of potential within each individual and seeks to nurture growth through the creative process, positive cultural values, and a belief in the beauty of life. Through the vision and generosity of Museum donors, visitors, members and volunteers, the Museum is able to fulfill the mission of its founders, John Hafen and Cyrus Dallin in refining minds and building character through fine art.

The Museum is a non-profit fine arts institution, and has provided cultural and educational opportunities to residents and visitors of Utah for nearly 100 years. The history of the Museum began in 1903, with the donation of two works of art to Springville High School by Cyrus E. Dallin and John Hafen. Dallin became famous for his heroic depictions of the American Indian, and Hafen for his sensitively rendered impressionistic landscapes. In 1907 a number of Utah artists agreed to donate paintings to the school, including: James T. Harwood, John B. Fairbanks and Mahonri M. Young. The students became interested in art and collecting, and began purchasing paintings and sculpture through an "Art Queen" program. Each student paid a penny-per-vote. The girl with the most votes was named queen, and the funds were used to purchase artwork for the Museum's collection.

Cultural and educational offerings at the Museum have expanded over time in response to community desire and need. A Paris Salon style exhibition was put on in 1921 by the High School students, which has continued as the Annual Spring Salon to this day. In 1925 the Museum, then called the High School Art Gallery, was incorporated. Generous donations from the Smart, Steed and Lund-Wassmer Collections have strengthened the Museum's permanent collection. By 1935 the collection had grown so much that the students and townspeople raised $100,000 during the Great Depression to construct the present facility. The Museum has since been expanded and modernized with the addition of the Clyde Wing in 1965, and the George S. and Delores Dore Eccles Wing in 2004. The latest addition doubled the size of the facility, adding 20,000 square feet to the Museum.

Environment and Education in Utah Valley

Utah Valley Attractions

Utah County boasts a variety of fun things to see and to do. There are outstanding scenic views, including Mount Timpanogos, Timpanogos Cave National Monument, Bridal Veil Falls, Cascade Springs, Utah Lake, Alpine Loop Scenic Byway, and Nebo Loop Scenic Byway. If you're a history buff, Utah County has some interesting historic sites including Camp Floyd and Stagecoach Inn State Park, the Historic Provo Tabernacle, and more.

Because the "Greatest Snow On Earth" is in Utah, skiing is a favorite winter activity. There are many excellent ski areas, within an hour's drive of Utah County, including Utah County's own Sundance Resort in Provo Canyon which is owned and operated by actor Robert Redford.

Collegiate sports are brought to the county by Brigham Young University, a member of the Mountain West Conference (MWAC), a frequent championship contender and host to national tournaments. Junior college sports are brought to the valley by Utah Valley University. They are a Division I Junior College program.

With all of the parks, lakes, and mountains, there are many fun outdoor activities. Biking, hiking, and boating are a few of the things you can do. Hunting and fishing are also favorite activities. Hunting in Utah County includes animals like deer, elk, pheasant, and waterfowl. Utah County also has facilities for golfing, dancing, and ice skating. In the summer you can cool off by playing on the water slides at our own Seven Peaks Resort Water Park.

The culture is enriched by museums and art galleries such as the Springville Museum of Art, BYU's Museum of Art, John Hutchings Museum of Natural History, The Apple Basket, and Elite Photography and Gallery. There are also plenty of concerts, operas, dramas, musicals and movies at a variety of theaters, tabernacles, and schools.

Nebo School District

Public schools in Springville are part of the Nebo School District, the sixth-largest school district in Utah. The district is known for its outstanding quality of education, and consistently scores above state and national norms on beginning and end-of-level assessments. Nebo School District's attendance rate is greater than 95%, and its graduates receive more than $2.3 million in college scholarships annually.
