Over the past few years I have had a chance to visit Washington, D.C. with some business groups to lobby our congressmen. While there one of my favorite activities is to visit the various war memorials. It is always a sobering walk along the Vietnam Memorial and the Korean War Memorial. A couple of years ago our group had the opportunity to visit the 911 Memorial at the Pentagon, remembering all those that lost their lives on that tragic day thus beginning our present day war on terrorism.

One of the newest and most impressive is the World War II Memorial. It was dedicated in 2004 by President Bush and is located on the National Mall at the eastern end of the Reflecting Pool between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument. It consists of 56 pillars and a pair of small triumphal arches surrounding a plaza and fountain. There is a freedom wall on the west side of the memorial with a view of the Reflecting Pool and behind it the Lincoln Memorial. The wall has 4,048 gold stars, each representing 100 Americans who died in World War II. In the front of the wall lies the message "Here we mark the price of freedom."

September 30, 2013 we again visited Washington, D.C. and we were in the Senate and House Chambers late into the night watching the budget resolutions fail and thus the government started shutting down. The next day all the memorials and monuments were closed and fenced off with temporary fencing and only essential services were to be kept running. However, they were not aware of a veteran group from Mississippi that had been planning for a long time to visit the World War II Memorial on October 1st. The four busloads of elderly veterans, some in wheelchairs, pushed aside the barricades to tour the World War II Memorial in defiance of the government shutdown. Park Police stepped aside as more than eighty veterans slowly walked the massive war memorial.

These war heroes had earned the right to visit this memorial built in their honor and no shutdown of the government was going to stop them. You see they had landed on the beaches of Normandy, stormed the shores of Iwo Jima, and tromped through the jungles of Southeast Asia. They had flown the bombing missions over Germany and manned the warships in the Pacific. They had earned the right.

I hope as Memorial Day has recently past we will remember and honor those that helped preserve our freedoms and continue to maintain them today.

(This is an abridged version of the talk I gave at the Memorial Day Service at the cemetery on May 26th)

City-Wide Disaster Drill Saturday August 9, 2014

The Springville Public Safety Department in partnership with CERT and hundreds of Block Captains and other emergency preparedness personnel is planning a city-wide drill that will test the city's plan for handling emergencies.

So what do you do? It depends on who you are and how much you want to participate. If you are a Neighborhood Block Captain you will be walking your block starting at 7:30 am and looking for red markers placed in certain locations by your Stake Emergency Preparedness Specialist. If you are CERT trained, or have medical skills, or you are a heavy equipment operator or building contractor you may want to report to the nearest Stake Center to volunteer to help with a simulated mass casualty exercise. Time to report is 8:30 am and the more the merrier. This part of the drill is planned to end by 11:00 am.

If you are none of the above you do nothing during this drill. However, if this were a real emergency, you would be expected to do the following.

1. Place a colored marker in a window facing the street indicating the condition of your family. RED indicates you need help immediately. Yellow means you need help, but not immediately, Green shows you are alright, and Black indicates there has been a death in your household. This information can be quickly gathered by your Block Captain as he/she walks past your home and then can be reported to the Ward (Zone) Emergency Center, which will be relayed by ham radio to the City Emergency Operations Center. City resources will be assigned according to the information passed up this chain. The use of LDS ward and stake boundaries to determine Zones and Sectors is for convenience only and does not imply only LDS members are to participate.
2. After checking your own status and if you are able, you should check your neighbors to the right, to the left and across the street and then report anything that needs attention to the Block Captain or the Ward (Zone) Emergency Center.

The information gained from this drill will be invaluable in making the city emergency plan work in the case of a real disaster. We hope those who participate learn much and have a lot of fun, at the same time.

5 STEPS TO NATURAL YARD CARE

Why go natural? Our yards are great spaces for relaxing. But in taking care of them, we often use water inefficiently, produce a lot of waste and overuse chemicals that are bad for the environment and our families' health.

The good news is that by making some simple changes we can:

- Save money;
- Protect our families' health;
- Save time;
- Make a healthy, beautiful yard;
- Protect the environment.

Without working too hard!

1. Build healthy soil with compost and mulch: it keeps the soil loose, recycles nutrients for plants, helps store water and protects plants from disease.
2. Plant right for your site. Choose the right plant for the right location in your yard, sunny or shady, dry or soggy. Pick plants that resist pests and use less water, prepare your soil with compost, and use native plants and trees.
3. Practice smart watering. Moisten the whole root zone, and then let the soil dry before watering again. Make every drop count by mulching, use soaker hoses, watering only in the early morning or evening to reduce evaporation.
4. Think twice before using pesticides and herbicides. Select disease-resistant plants, and pull weeds by hand before they spread. Select the least toxic products. Only use these products as the last resort. Pesticides and herbicides can seep down into the ground water and if over sprayed it can go into the storm drain system and eventually into our streams and lakes causing damage to aquatic life.
5. Practice natural lawn care. Mow higher (1-2 inches) and leave clippings. "Grass clippings" provides free fertilizer.

Roundabout

Beginning Monday, June 2, 2014 the intersection at 400 South and 1300 East (Canyon Road) will be CLOSED for the entire summer!

The roundabout will improve traffic flow to the canyon and the new junior high. Local businesses will be open during construction. Please refer to the city website for the detour route http://www.springville.org/construction/400s_roundabout/.

NOTICE To Springville Utility Customers

An amendment to the Fiscal Year 2013-2014 Budget will be presented to the City Council in a public hearing at their regular meeting scheduled for June 17, 2014 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers, 110 South Main. One of the proposed amendments to the budget includes operating transfers from the Enterprise (utility) Funds to the General Fund in the following amounts:

Electric	$429,831
Water	$ 67,313
Sewer	$ 59,948
Storm Water	$ 15,974

These transfers are associated with the cost of utility services provided by the Enterprise Funds to the departments and facilities of the General Fund. Notice of these transfers is required under Utah State Code.

Help us keep our City clean and beautiful, recycle your yard waste at our green waste facility located at 500 West 700 North. We are open Tuesday – Saturday from 8:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

Fireworks Danger

Due to the fire danger this year some areas of Springville City are closed to all fireworks. This is the same boundary as in years past, with no change in restricted areas. All fireworks are banned on the northeast foothill boundaries of Springville, effective immediately. The fireworks ban is designed to prevent any fireworks being used within 1000ft of the US Forest boundary near the foothills. See the boundary map posted at www.springville.org

Legal fireworks may be used in other areas of town from 11am to 11pm between July 1st and July 7th and July 21st and July 27th this year, per Utah state law. We encourage all in restricted areas to take their families to any of the city parks outside the banned areas to set off your fireworks.

With your help, we can have fun and safe firework season.
